Child Safeguarding Policy

1.0 Statement of Commitment to Keeping Children Safe

Right To Play is an international humanitarian and development organization that is committed to improving the lives of children and youth. Our play-based approach to learning focuses on quality education, health, gender equality, life skills, child protection and building peaceful communities to educate, protect and to empower children and youth.

Right To Play's vision is to create a healthy and safe world through the power of play. We recognize that we have a fundamental duty of care towards children and we are committed to our responsibilities to keep children safe while they are participating in our programs and activities.

Right To Play's Commitment to Children

We are committed to the rights, well-being, and welfare of children around the world. We oppose all forms of violence and abuse (including physical, sexual, emotional, and neglect), discrimination, exploitation, and manipulation of children as set out in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC).¹ See Section 7.0 for definitions.

In implementing programs with communities and children, in welcoming, inclusive, and safe environments, we are committed to:

- Responsibility: Recognizing that child safeguarding is our responsibility, whether or not our individual roles involve working directly with children and youth;
- Dignity and Respect: Thinking of the “best interests of the child” as a guide for decisions and actions and engaging with children in a dignified and respectful way.
- Accountability: Actively holding ourselves as Right to Play Team Members as well as Right to Play Partner Team members accountable to child safeguarding commitments and responsibilities;
- Behaviour: Acting as role models of child-friendly attitudes, behaviours, and practices;
- Equality: Treating all children and youth equally with respect and fairness regardless of age, culture, caste, nationality, creed, ethnicity, health status (e.g. AIDS), physical and psychological ability, family situation, gender, language, racial origin, socio-economic status, religious belief and / or sexual orientation;
- Participation: Ensuring that children are able and enabled to express their views on all matters which affect them and their surroundings, they are listened to, are active in decision-making processes, and their views are acted upon;
- Confidentiality: Keeping details of the subject of violence and abuse in reported cases confidential, unless where required by law; and
- Partnership: Working in partnership with governments, communities, partner agencies, multilaterals, donors, children, and families to promote the welfare, health and development of children, and to protect them from harm.

¹ The Convention on the Rights of the Child is a legally binding international instrument supporting children's rights to survival, development, participation and protection. The UNCRC was adopted in 1989, and has been signed and ratified by 194 countries.

2.0 Scope

This Child Safeguarding Policy (this “Policy”) applies to all Right To Play employees, consultants, contractors, coaches, interns, and volunteers employed by or working with Right To Play International; a Right to Play National Office; a Right to Play Country Office; a Right to Play Project Office (all such preceding entities collectively referred to as "Right To Play" or "Right To Play team members") and, to individuals employed by or working directly on a program/project an implementing partner funded by Right To Play (all such persons collectively referred to as "Partner team Members"). This Policy also applies to Athlete Ambassadors, Board members, and any other representatives of Right To Play who are visiting the field (collectively referred to as "representatives").

Right To Play encourages all Team Members, Partner team Members and representatives to take measures to protect all children; however this Policy is meant specifically to protect the children and youth with whom Right To Play works (for any amount of time). It covers instances of violence, abuse, harassment and exploitation that occur inside and outside of project hours and locations that is witnessed, suspected, or enacted by a Team Member, Partner team Members or representative, or as disclosed to a Team Member or representative by a child or other party.

This Policy also applies to Partners, Funders, and Vendors working with Right To Play, as part of a partnership agreement. See section 3.2.8 for further details.

3.0 Roles and Responsibilities

3.1 Responsibility of all Right To Play and Partner Team Members and Representatives

Right To Play embraces its responsibility to provide equal rights and opportunities to all children without discrimination or unequal treatment and to create and proactively maintain an environment that aims to prevent and respond to any actions that place children at risk.

In order to uphold the commitment to keeping children safe, all Right To Play and Partner Team Members and representatives are required to:

- Adopt and abide by this Policy;
- Demonstrate a duty of care to the children;
- Report concerns and incidents of violence, abuse, and exploitation of children;
- Respond swiftly and appropriately (refer to steps for responding to abuse) to all suspicions and allegations of violence, abuse, and exploitation while maintaining confidentiality;
- Sign the Attestation of Commitment to Child Safeguarding Form in print or digital form
- Complete and sign the Child Safeguarding Self-Declaration Form in print or digital format;
- Follow Right to Play’s Child Safeguarding Photography Guidelines when taking photos, videos, and conducting interviews with children;
- Sign the Right To Play Code of Conduct; and
- Everyone is expected to be aware of local formal and informal child protection services.

3.2 Responsibility of Management

Chief Executive Officer is accountable for ensuring that organizational procedures related to violence, abuse, and exploitation and child safeguarding are integrated into existing management and monitoring systems, procedures, and processes and that all Right To Play Team Members, partners and representatives comply with this Policy. Additionally, progress of the implementation of the Child Safeguarding Policy will be an agenda item for the ET minimum of twice a year.

3.2.1 Recruitment

People and Culture (PC) or Hiring Manager where PC is absent will ensure implementation of following recruitment practices for all employees:

- Include organizational commitment to Child Safeguarding in job advertisements;
- Include child safeguarding focused questions in all interviews;
- Conduct 3 reference checks (preferably at least one women referee) that include questions on child safeguarding protocol issues;
- Conduct police record checks to screen for abuse of children prior to employment where available but appropriate²;
- Obtain a completed and signed Child Safeguarding Self-Declaration Form disclosing any prior convictions and maintain a database of these forms; and
- Ask employees and volunteers to read this Policy, ask questions to ensure understanding, and obtain their signed Attestation of Commitment to Child Safeguarding Form.

3.2.2 Education and Training

All VP's will ensure that:

- All staff will receive Child Safeguarding training at the time of on boarding and will undertake a refresher training each year;
- All representatives of Right To Play team, including interns and volunteers coming in direct contact with children will receive a Child Safeguarding orientation; and
- Child safeguarding training for Country, HQ and National staff is scheduled and conducted at least every two years.

Country Directors will additionally ensure that:

- A session on this Policy is integrated into all Coach/Teacher/Volunteer foundational training sessions;
- All staff members of partner organizations directly involved implementation of Right To Play funded programs will receive Child Safeguarding policy training at the time of signing partnership agreement and will be provided a refresher training each year; and
- Coach/Teacher/Volunteers sign the Attestation of Commitment to Child Safeguarding Form and Right To Play Code of Conduct at the end of the training session.

² In some countries police record check may not be a credible source. In these circumstances, adhere to all other child safeguarding recruitment procedures.

3.2.4 Implementation

All VP's and Directors (HQ and National) will ensure that:

- All team members have specific points in their job description on how the role relates to child safeguarding and keeping children safe in compliance with this Policy;
- Child safeguarding is integrated into all program and organizational risk assessments, and quality mitigation strategies are put in place;
- All direct reports sign the Attestation of Commitment to Child Safeguarding Form upon Recruitment and whenever changes are made to this Policy;
- All country programs have conducted child protection community mapping;
- Procedures to transport and accommodate children are followed;
- Monitoring and review systems for compliance and reporting are put in place; and
- Financial and Human Resources needs for implementation are identified and met; and
- Follow due process without fail on incident reporting, including identifying, investigating, reporting and appropriately addressing any child safeguarding concerns.

Country Director's will additionally ensure that:

- Child Safeguarding accountability is integrated into the Program Manager job description (minimum 15% of time) or will identify another member of the Senior Management Team where the role will be integrated;
- A mapping of the formal and non-formal referral system is conducted in the community before a project or program is initiated. This will also include an identification and assessment of local organizations, resources and practices, for keeping children safe; Right To Play practice and response plans have been developed that are in line with our commitment to safeguarding children;
- Contacts are established at a national and/or local level with relevant child protection agencies, Non-Governmental Organizations and community groups providing support on child protection that can provide information, support and assistance to children and staff;
- Children and parents/guardians are informed of the policies and procedures, and means of contacting Right To Play directly for concerns about violence against children, abuse and/or exploitation; and
- Children are provided with information on where to go locally for confidential help and advice in relation to violence, abuse, exploitation, harassment and bullying.

3.2.5 Communications

All VP's, Directors (HQ, National and Country) and Managers/Leads (HQ, National, and Country) will ensure that:

- All hired personal (stringers³ and consultants) are made aware of the Child Safeguarding Policy and Right To Play's commitment to dealing with communities and children with dignity and respect.
- Professional photographers sign the Photographer/Multimedia Agreement Form prior to taking photographs and videos.
- All direct reports are aware of responsibilities for safe maintenance and content published on social media platforms.
- Real names, identity, and location of children are not revealed in communication material.
- All Right To Play Team Members and representatives respect the dignity and protect the best interest of the child(ren) and their identity when interviewing, photographing, and developing communications and media pieces, including social media, and when utilizing their likeness in stories and photographs as outlined in the Child Safeguarding Photography Guidelines; and
- Obtain completed and signed Photographic/Media/Editorial Consent Form for Children from the child(ren) and their parent(s)/guardian(s), prior to conducting interviews or taking and using photographs or video footage of children.

3.2.6 Monitoring

HQ People and Culture will ensure that:

- Monitor and respond to reports submitted via the direct Child Safeguarding email address childsafeguarding@righttoplay.com; telephone number +1-647-242-7170, or the Clearview reporting procedures outlined in this policy;
- Maintain confidential records of all violence and abuse cases;
- Review violations of this Policy on a regular basis and revise procedures and protocol to ensure the safeguarding of children;
- Annual reporting on key compliance indicators of the child safeguarding policy to the international board of directors; and
- Include completion of Child Safeguarding refresher and training in annual Performance Appraisal forms.

International Board of Directors will ensure that:

- This Policy and its implementation is regularly reviewed and safeguarding cases are shared and discussed:
 - In accordance with changes in legislation and guidance
 - Following any significant organizational changes within Right To Play;
 - Following any issues or concerns raised about the protection of children within Right To Play; and
 - In all other circumstances, at least every three years.
- ET members have clearly articulated accountability to Child Safeguarding Policy in their performance agreements.

³ A newspaper correspondent not on the regular staff of a newspaper, especially one retained on a part-time basis to report on events in a particular place.

3.2.7 Reporting

All VP's, Directors (HQ, National, and Country) ensure that:

- Allegations of violence and abuse are documented in detail and responded to in accordance with the Procedures for Responding to Violence against Children and Child Abuse set out in Section 5.0 below;
- All Allegation, disclosure, suspicion, or observation of violence or abuse of a child or concern of safety or wellbeing of child or young person are reported to the Director of People and Culture at Right To Play Headquarters or the Clearview Reporting Systems within 24 hours of receipt;
- The Director of People and Culture will outline the investigative action based on directions from the global Crisis Management team; and
- Contingency funds are allocated to support immediate costs of the incidence.

3.2.8 Partner Organizations, Vendors and Consultant

All VP's, Directors (HQ, National, and Country) and Managers (HQ, National, and Country) entering a partnership will ensure that:

- When establishing a partnership agreement or a relationship with implementing partners, and vendors (who are in close contact with children and/or have access to documentation of confidential information related to children), an assessment of the partner's child safeguarding policy and/or practices is completed, and a decision is made whether or not the partner employees or volunteers involved in Right To Play programs will be required to adhere to this Policy;
- All agreements and memorandums of understanding with partners, contractors or other representatives who are in contact with children include a clause stating the partner's commitment to this Policy or their own comparable policy;
- All employees, volunteers and representatives directly involved in the implementing a program/project of partner organization funded by Right To Play or implementing partner organizations participating in Right To Play programs agree to adhere and openly comply to this Policy, or their comparable policy;
- There is a process of engagement with partners on child safeguarding issues to ensure a shared understanding of safeguarding expectations, mutual learning, and development of current best practice; and
- All consultants will be required to adhere to this Right To Play Child Safeguarding Policy and for those who are in direct contact with children or have access to data with children's personal information will be required to produce references from previous employers.

4.0 Core Standards of Practice

For all Right To Play Team Members Working with Children

- Respond to and report actual or suspected concerns, suspicions or violations regarding any kind of abuse or exploitation by a colleague, family member or community partner. These concerns must be reported in accordance with the systems and policies outlined in this Policy;
- Keep a written record of any injury that occurs, along with the details of any treatment given;
- Ensure that all Right To Play sessions are safe and free from violence;

- Ensure that the Child Safeguarding Photography Guidelines are followed when photos or videos are being taken of children, or when interviews are being conducted with them;
- Always work in an open environment and avoid being alone with one child. Ensure any private conversation with a child is in plain view of others;
- Obtain written parental or guardian consent if Right To Play is transporting children to a play day event; and
- Secure parental or guardian consent in writing to act in the place of the parent or guardian, if the need arises to administer emergency first aid and/or other medical treatment.

5.0 Procedure for Responding to Violence against Children and Child Abuse

This Child Safeguarding Reporting Process must be followed when reporting a concern for the safety or wellbeing of a child or a breach of this Policy. All Right To Play Team Members, Partner Team Members, and representatives must report any concerns, suspicion, allegation or disclosure they have for the safety and wellbeing of a child. Reports will be handled professionally, confidentially, and as quickly as possible and will meet country specific legislative requirements. Right To Play reserves the right to terminate any employee, partner, consultant or vendor contract that may result from false or malicious allegations.

Right To Play will treat all concerns raised seriously and ensure that all parties will be treated fairly. Where required an internal investigation will be conducted in regards to an internal report made. For reports where local authorities are conducting independent investigation, Right To Play staff will fully support the investigation.

When violence or abuse is suspected, witnessed or reported the first step is to ensure safety of the child.

- Listen to him/her calmly and take him/her seriously;
- Never be alone with the child. If the child prefers to discuss the situation with one individual, ensure a secondary adult is in close vicinity;
- Children should have the option of speaking to a person of their choice or having such a person present.
- Reassure the child that he/she is not to blame;
- Be honest. Do not promise confidentiality. Explain that you may have to share their secret with someone who will be able to help them. Inform the child of the steps you will take. Tell the child you believe them and are glad that they told you;
- Make sure you are clear about what the child says before you report it;
- To ensure trust and comfort of the child, do not write/ tape record information while speaking with the child. When the child is no longer in your presence record what the child said in clear and accurate detail; and
- Maintain a level of confidentiality; only discuss the matter with those necessary to protect the child, do not disclose unnecessary details.

Right To Play personnel and representatives must inform their Manager if they believe they or a member of their family may be at risk of harm for making or being part of making a child safeguarding report.

Child Safeguarding Reporting Process for Internal Cases

This Process should be followed for reports concerning an alleged breach of the Child Safeguarding Policy, allegations, disclosures, incidents, or suspicions of child abuse having been committed, or concerns/information about the actions or behaviour of Right To Play personnel or representatives.

Definitions

a) Child: In accordance with the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, which has been signed and ratified by all countries where Right To Play currently operates, a child is defined as any person under the age of 18 years.

b) Child Abuse consists of anything, which individuals, caregivers, caretakers, duty bearers, institutions or processes do, or fail to do, which directly or indirectly harms children or damages their prospect of safe and healthy development into adulthood.

There are four major categories of abuse: emotional abuse, physical abuse, neglect, and sexual abuse. These categories are not mutually exclusive. For example, a child experiencing physical abuse is likely experiencing emotional abuse as well. For expanded definitions and information on how to recognize different types of abuse, please see the Child Safeguarding Implementation Guidebook.

1. Emotional Abuse: Emotional abuse is the persistent emotional ill treatment of a child, which can cause severe impacts on the child's emotional development. This could include making a child feel worthless or unloved, inadequate or not valued. Potential examples of emotional abuse include: persistent failure to show any respect to a child; constantly humiliating a child by shaming him or her or telling the child they are useless; continually being aggressive towards a child making them feel frightened; or acting in a way which is detrimental to the child's self-esteem.

2. Physical Abuse: Physical abuse is when a person purposefully injures or threatens to injure a child. This could include deliberately hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning, scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise harming a child. Physical abuse may also occur where someone knowingly fails to take action to protect a child from physical harm.

3. Neglect: Neglect involves the deliberate, persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health and development. As well as being the result of a deliberate act, neglect can also be caused through the omission or the failure to act or protect. Neglect may involve deliberate failure to: provide adequate food, clothing or shelter; protect from physical or emotional harm or danger; meet or respond to basic emotional needs; ensure adequate supervision including the use of adequate care-takers; ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment; ensure that the child's educational needs are met; or ensure the child's opportunities for intellectual stimulation are met.

4. Sexual Abuse: Sexual abuse involves forcing or enticing a child to take part in physically sexual activities, including prostitution, whether or not they are aware of or consent to what is happening. This definition also holds whether or not there has been physical contact and whether or not the child is said to have initiated or consented to, the behaviour. Examples of sexual abuse include exposure to sexually explicit inappropriate language or jokes; showing a child pornographic material or using a child to produce such material; inappropriate touching; or sexual activity of any kind with a child. For Right To Play members, sexual activity with children (under the age of 18) regardless of the local age of consent or majority is strictly forbidden.

c) Child Protection: It describes the work being undertaken to strengthen laws, policies, programs and systems in his or her own family and community, which are designed to protect children in a given country.

- d) Child Safeguarding: Child safeguarding is the responsibility that organizations have to ensure their staff, operations and programs “do no harm” to children and that any concerns the organization has about children’s safety within the communities in which they work are reported to the appropriate authorities.
- e) Discrimination of the child: Any distinction, exclusion, restriction or preference which is based on any ground such as, the child’s or his or her parent’s or legal guardian’s race, colour, gender, language, religion, political or other opinion, national, ethnic or social origin, property, disability, birth or other status and which has the purpose or effect of nullifying or impairing the recognition, enjoyment or exercise of all rights and freedoms.
- f) Exploitation: Child exploitation is the use of children for someone else’s advantage, gratification or profit often resulting in unjust, cruel and harmful treatment of the child. It covers situations of manipulation, misuse, abuse, victimization, oppression or ill-treatment.

Economic exploitation: The use of the child in work or other activities for the economic benefit of others. This includes, but is not limited to, child labour. Economic exploitation implies the idea of a certain gain or profit through the production, distribution and consumption of goods and services.

Sexual exploitation: The abuse of a position of vulnerability, differential power, or trust for sexual purposes. This includes profiting monetarily, socially or politically from the exploitation of another as well as personal sexual gratification.

Child trafficking: Moving a child within a country, or across borders, whether by force or not, for someone else’s advantage, gratification or profit, is a form of both economic and sexual exploitation.

- g) Manager: Includes any Team Member with direct reports.
- h) Manipulation: A type of social influence that aims to change the perception or behaviour of others through underhanded, devious and unfair tactics. Manipulation can be used to exploit and abuse children.
- i) Partner: Includes any organization with which Right To Play has formed a partnership agreement.
- j) Partner Team Member: Includes individuals employed by or working directly on a program/project an implementing partner funded by Right To Play
- k) Representatives: Athlete Ambassadors, board members, and any other representatives visiting the field.
- l) Right To Play: Includes Right To Play International, National, Country and Project Offices.
- m) Team Member: Includes all Right To Play employees, consultants, contractors, coaches, interns, and volunteers employed by, or working with, Right To Play
- n) Violence Against Children: all forms of physical and/or emotional ill-treatment, sexual abuse, neglect or negligent treatment or commercial or other exploitation resulting in actual or potential harm to the child's health, survival, development or dignity in the context of a relationship of trust, responsibility, or power.

Parent, Care Taker, Care Giver Involvement

- Request written parental consent if Right To Play is transporting/accommodating children to a play day or other events.
- Secure parental consent in writing to act in loco parentis (on behalf of parents) if the need arises to administer emergency first aid and/or other medical treatment.
- Involve parents, guardians, and other community members where possible and inform them when problems arise.

Photographs, Films and Video

- Right To Play reserves the right at all times to prohibit the use of photography, film or video at any event or activity with which it is associated.

Prohibited Behaviours

Right To Play Team Members and representatives are prohibited from any of the following behaviours:

- Inappropriate touch: Any form of improper touch is prohibited. This includes doing things of a personal nature for children that they can do for themselves.
- Illegal or offensive conduct: Any form of sexual, physical, verbal or emotional harassment, assault or abuse is prohibited for all Right To Play Team Members and representatives. This includes behaving in ways intended to shame, humiliate, or belittle children.
- Sexual activity: Any sexual activity with children (under the age of 18) regardless of the local age of consent or majority is also strictly prohibited.
- Being too familiar or too close: Avoid showing favoritism, giving special attention or personally rewarding specific children. Treat every child equally and maintain a supportive, friendly, and safe distance both physically and emotionally.
- Doing anything with a child in private or not visible to others: To eliminate the perception and situations of misconduct, all contact with children must be known to, supported by and in full view of others.
- Displaying a poor attitude: Encouraging fair play towards the play activity is essential.

Child Safeguarding Photography Guidelines

Right To Play Child Safeguarding Policy – Statement of Commitment to Keeping Children Safe

Right To Play is an international humanitarian and development organization that uses play and quality education to empower children and youth and enable them to overcome the effects of poverty, conflict, and disease in disadvantaged communities. Right To Play's vision is to create a healthy and safe world through the power of play. We recognize that we have a fundamental duty of care towards children and we are committed to our responsibilities to keep children safe while engaged in our programs and activities.

Governing Right To Play's use of visual images, both photographic and video, is an overriding principle to maintain respect and dignity in our portrayal of children, youth, coaches, volunteers, and teachers. We are committed to the wellbeing and welfare of children and oppose all forms of discrimination and exploitation of children, manipulation, violence and abuse of children as set out in the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child.

The following outlines the principles employed to regulate and monitor Right To Play's use of images.

I. To respect the subject, Right To Play:

- Requests written consent from children prior to taking and using photographs or video footage of children, youth, coaches, parents, volunteers, teachers, family or community members whenever possible.
- Develop user-friendly contextually and culturally appropriate photography/multimedia agreement form in accessible formats (e.g. local language) to share with children for consent. Provide an overview of the content of the form in user-friendly language verbally.
- Seeks written consent from parents or guardians for photos or videos taken of children;
- Takes photos with children that portray, in a dignified and respectful way, children's engagement in Right To Play activities and not in poses that are submissive or attire that could be perceived as sexually suggestive;
- Gives special consideration to photographs or videos depicting children with disabilities, refugees and those in situations of conflict and disaster to accurately portray context and maintain dignity at all times;
- Provides explanation for the use of photos or videos;
- Refrains from taking photos or videos of those who decline;
- Ensures images are honest representations of the situations and do not script children to say things in order to please the interviewer.
- Protects the identity of children by using only their first name or replacing it entirely.

II. Right To Play does not:

- Use images that are erotic, pornographic, obscene or convey suffering;
- Digitally or otherwise manipulate a photograph or video in a way that distorts the reality of the subject or situation; and
- Misrepresent projects, people or events in the use of images (e.g., we will not use an image of one project to illustrate the work of another).

How Right To Play Ensures Compliance?

In accordance with the Child Safeguarding Policy, children are photographed taking into consideration their views and without being put in any compromising situation visually or verbally.

Children who are partially clothed are not photographed or captured on video. To ensure alignment with our brand personality, and adhere with our commitment to portraying children with dignity and respect.

Where photos are published with captions or accompanying stories that identify the child by name and location, the child's name is altered to protect their identity and a note included to acknowledge their name has been changed.

Consent is obtained from the child and the parent/guardian, prior to taking photos of children and youth using the Photographic/Media/Editorial Consent Form for Children. Permission is acquired from all individuals before publishing photos. In some situations, such as the instance of a Play Day in which hundreds of children attend, this is not always possible. In these situations, measures are taken to not single out an individual child when taking photographs.

Photographers are obliged to adhere to these guidelines when taking photos of children participating in Right To Play play-based activities and sports programs. To protect the integrity of the child (ren) photographers must read and sign the Photographer/Multimedia Agreement Form, which indicates that he or she has read and agrees to adhere to the conditions outlined in these guidelines and Right To Play's Child Safeguarding Policy.

Photographer/Multimedia Agreement Form

Right To Play is an international humanitarian and development organization that is committed to creating a healthier and safer world, by promoting every child's right to play and that harnesses the power of play to empower children to overcome adversity. Right To Play is an international humanitarian and development organization that uses play and quality education to support children and youth to empower themselves and enables them to overcome the effects of poverty, conflict, and disease in disadvantaged communities. Right To Play's vision is to create a healthy and safe world through the power of play. We recognize that we have a fundamental duty of care towards children and we are committed to our responsibilities to keep children safe while engaged in our programs and activities.

We are committed to the rights, well-being, and welfare of children around the world. We oppose all forms of child exploitation and child abuse, including physical, emotional, sexual abuse and neglect of children. We believe that every child has the right to protection from abuse irrespective of age, culture, caste, nationality, creed, ethnicity, health status, physical and psychological ability, family situation, gender, language, racial origin, socio-economic status, religious belief and / or sexual orientation. Recognizing the risks to children and our responsibility to keep them safe during humanitarian emergencies and as a part of development efforts, Right To Play's Child Safeguarding Policy aims to ensure a safe and positive environment for children with whom Right To Play works with at any point in time.

Right To Play considers the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child as the basis for its Child Safeguarding Policy. Since Right To Play offers programs in different countries around the world, Right To Play's Child Safeguarding Policy takes into consideration local laws, customs, and traditions.

Having read and understood the above, the undersigned hereby:

1. Recognizes the need to ensure the wellbeing and protection of all children during Right To Play activities and events.
2. Accepts Right To Play's Child Safeguarding Photography Guidelines and will follow this guidance when taking and using images of children (persons 0-18 years of age).
3. Takes every effort to ensure that the images taken are used for the sole purposes they are intended and to highlight the work Right To Play is doing in various countries, and the joys of play and games.
4. Agrees that the images may be published on Right To Play's international and national websites as well as in all other marketing material produced by Right To Play.

If you become aware that these images are being used inappropriately and/or have any questions, please contact Right To Play Director of Marketing and Communications via email: mkibel@righttoplay.com

Guidelines for Transportation and Accommodation of Children for Events and Activities Related to Right To Play

Right To Play (RTP) recognizes that we have a fundamental duty of care towards children and we are committed to our responsibilities to keep children safe while engaged in our programs and activities. The following principles must be followed while transporting children outside of their community to attend event and activities related to RTP.

- Do not transport children outside of their communities below the age of 6
- An adult (a person over 18 years old) will accompany children at all times. One adult can only be responsible for 20 children. 1 adult per 20 children ratio should be met throughout the entire travel
- Children will be escorted on and off the bus by the accompanying adult and all children will be head-counted before each departure and arrival
- All children will be seated in the backseat throughout the travel
- The vehicle will be parked in a safe zone to allow safe disembarkment and boarding
- A properly working vehicle will be used to minimize safety concerns and avoid malfunctions during travel with children
- Driver will take sufficient number of breaks (15 minutes every two hours) to get rest
- Children will be transported back to their communities before dark

It is not recommended to arrange events and activities that will require children to stay outside of their home. However, if the event/activity requires an overnight stay for children outside of their home, the following principles must be followed:

- All children will stay in same-gender rooms
- An adult (a person over 18 years old) will accompany children at all times. One adult can only be responsible for 20 children. 1 adult per 20 children ratio should be met throughout the entire travel
- Accompanying adults will not stay in the same room with children. The rooms in which the adults are staying should be spread out evenly among the children's rooms to have equal proximity and oversight. If accommodation will take place in a dormitory-type of setting, separate sleeping arrangements for adults should be sought. If the facility does not permit separate sleeping arrangements for adults, adults should stay in the same gender dormitories.
- No outside activity will be planned after dark. Indoor activities can be planned at the venue of accommodation between sunset and bedtime
- All children will be back to their rooms by 8 pm and stay in unless an emergency situation occurs. The child will be obliged to inform the chaperon if this is the case
- An adequately safe and clean venue will be selected
- Children will be provided at least three meals a day

Consent forms for "Transportation" and "Transportation and Accommodation" is provided in the following pages. If the child will have an overnight stay outside of his/her home during travel Transportation and Accommodation Consent Form for Children should be used.

Transportation Consent Form for Children⁶

I, -----, (Parent/Guardian's name), hereby give Right To Play (RTP), permission to transport my child ----- (Child's Name) from/to our neighborhood/school to ----- (Name of the Location) to attend events and activities related to RTP on ----- (date).

RTP activities, such as those described above, involve certain elements of risk. Accidents may occur while participating in these activities. These accidents result from the nature of the activity and can occur without the fault on either the part of the child, or RTP, its employees, volunteers, or agents. If you consent to your child participating in the activity described above, you are aware of the potential risk that an accident might occur. The chance of an accident or injury occurring can be reduced if your child understands his/her responsibilities [please see the back of the page for the responsibilities of each party] and carefully follows instructions at all times while engaged in the activities.

I understand that in permitting my child to participate in the RTP activities described above, I am assuming the risks associated with doing so. I acknowledge that I will not seek to have RTP, its employees, volunteers, or representatives held liable in the event that any accident, injury, loss of property and or any other circumstances or incident occurs during or as a result of my child's participation in the activities.

I have discussed this information, and the child's responsibilities, with my child. I have read and understand and accept all of the statements recited above and accept full responsibility as described. I give my child permission to participate in the activity described above on the date listed.
